10. QUOTE OF THE DAY: "Many people think that history is a dull subject. Dull? Is it "dull" that Jesse James once got bitten on the forehead by an ant, and at first it didn't seem like anything, but then the bite got worse and worse, so he went to a doctor in town, and the secretary told him to wait, so he sat down and waited, and waited, and waited, and waited, and then finally he got to see the doctor, and the doctor put some salve on it? You call that dull?" Jack Handly

GQ Lessons Learned - Remembering the Basics!

- Battle Dress. All hands need to protect any exposed skin. This was a hard lesson learned by the British during the Falklands War. Stop by the XO's stateroom to see pictures of what happened when they didn't have their skin protected by at least some thin clothing. For us, it means tucking in your pants into your socks, buttoning up your shirt, rolling your sleeves down and donning flash gear which consists of flash gloves and hood. The hood should fit snugly around your face, just exposing your eyes.
- SCBA. This wasn't taught to you in Basic Training, but all hands need to know how to don and use the SCBA on COLE - NO EXCEPTIONS. Already this week, we've had people hurt who did not operate this equipment correctly...let alone fight a fire effectively. If you have any questions, come to the flight deck today for an opportunity to refresh your training.
- Fire Smoke Boundaries. All hands need to know what is involved in setting both a fire boundary and a smoke boundary. This is the surest way to stop the spread of damage in the ship.

0. QUOTE OF THE DAY: "I couldn't hit a wall with a six-gun, but I can twirl one. It looks good." - John Wayne

RIGHT SPIRIT CAMPAIGN NOTE: The Navy continues to be at the forefront of reducing alcohol abuse which ultimately has an effect on readiness. We have seen alcohol abuse incidents drop from 6,815 in 1996 to less than 4,000 in 1999. DWI incidents have also been significantly reduced from 1,795 in 1996 to 983 in 1999. We lost 17 sailors to alcohol related motor vehicle fatalities in 1999, the lowest in more than ten years. We know our success in continuing the reduction of alcohol abuse in the Navy has not occurred overnight. It has taken a concerted effort by all hands supporting responsible drinking and the concept that it's okay not to drink, from the deckplates to senior leadership. These significant results are a product of the Navy's Right Spirit Campaign. Right Spirit has been and remains the cornerstone of the Navy's alcohol abuse prevention campaign, and is key to the Navy's ongoing commitment to reducing the effects of alcohol abuse on readiness. We are making a difference, but our work is not finished. Continued success of our efforts to date requires active support and involvement of all hands. Ultimately each Sailor makes a personal decision on whether or not to drink; and, if they do, they know they will be required to drink responsibly. Responsible drinking means the right place, the right quantity, and the right time. Anything less than this creates unnecessary and unwanted risk. Navy leaders must ensure all hands know the consequences of irresponsible drinking and must support those who choose not to drink. Sailors with repeat incidents of alcohol abuse misconduct will be appropriately disciplined and processed for administrative separation. Several initiatives are on the horizon to help us continue the downtrend of abuse. These include a new right spirit video for officer accession candidates, revised education courses, TV commercials supporting right spirit beamed to ships at sea, web-based training to put more flexibility in commanding Officer hands, and new right spirit marketing tools for command DAPAs. While programmatic improvements will help, it is equally important that we continue to emphasize at all levels, that alcohol abuse harms readiness and today's Navy cannot afford that. We fully intend to continue to identify abuse and dependency problems, provide treatment and restore individuals to full duty upon completion of prescribed treatment, education and intervention. We also fully intend to be free of the effects of alcohol abuse on force readiness. To do this requires a commitment on your part and emphasis to subordinates. I want to reemphasize to all hands, our commitment to the Right Spirit campaign and responsible drinking in today's Navy. Leadership, education, and intolerance of those who abuse alcohol will continue to enhance efforts to eliminate alcohol abuse in our Navy. Share your initiatives, successes, and challenges with us.

No swapping while in town. If you are caught alone in town you come back without your buddy - both will be held accountable. This system is as much for your protection from crime as it is to keep our shipmates out of trouble. If one individual on COLE has a liberty incident, it is a liberty incident for the whole crew - we all will pay the price. Some examples of liberty incidents includes getting intoxicated, or unruly and belligerent behavior, fighting, arguing with authorities or

One word of caution - beer overseas has more alcohol content than the beer in the US, so be careful.

Save your money - we have a lot of great port visits coming up - set a budget for yourself for each port.

Look out for your shipmates - COLE Sailors take care of their own. They help shipmates from getting in trouble. They watch each other's back. If you see someone who needs to get back to the ship, the quarterdeck will have money to pay for a cab.

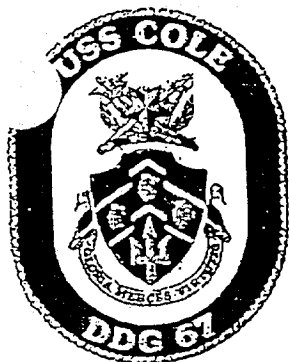

c. CIVILIAN CLOTHING ASHORE: Please read COLE Notice 1020 carefully. Your division officers will have it at quarters. Bottom line: people in Europe and South East Asia dress very well and if you want to make new friends here, you should do your best to present yourself in a clean-cut and tasteful way. In addition, you might be the only Americans some people will meet. Please respect the country and customs. The OOD has the authority to keep you from leaving the ship if you don't meet the minimum standards of attire.

HAZARD ALERT NOTE: FIRESTONE TIRE RECALL. On 9 August 2000, Bridgestone/Firestone and Ford Motor Company announced Firestone is recalling millions of tires that contain a safety-related defect involving tread separation. The recall will cover all P235/75R15 Firestone Radial ATX and Radial ATX II tires produced in North America and Mexico. In addition, all wilderness at tires of the same size manufactured at Firestone's Decatur, IL plant which have code "VD" imprinted on the sidewall are also recalled. The tires in question were on equipment on the Ford Explorer (Model years 1996-2000), Ford Ranger pickup trucks (Model years 1991-2000), and Ford B-series trucks (Model years 1994-1996) and Mazda B4000 pickup trucks. Some Ford vehicles purchased by GSA came with these tires as well as other equipment, and other vehicles, including those made by Ford, General Motors and Daimlerchrysler may have had them installed as replacement tires. These tires were also sold in the aftermarket and may be on any light truck or SUV that takes the P235/75R15 tire size. Owners will be able to obtain the replacement tires at Firestone stores, and Ford owners will be able to obtain them at Ford dealerships. Firestone plans to send an interim notification letter to all owners of these tires that would advise them of the defect, indicate that new tires will be provided when available, and suggest actions to minimize the risk of a tread separation in the interim. If you have experienced any tire failure, report it to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration by calling the auto safety hotline at 1-888-DASH-2-DOT or by completing and electronic complaint form on their website, <http://www.nhtsa.dot.gov/cars/problems/ivoq/default.htm>. You may also contact Firestone at 1-800-465-1904 or their website <http://www.firestonetire.com> Ford Motor Company customers call 1-800-660-4719 or write their website at tireinquiryford.com.

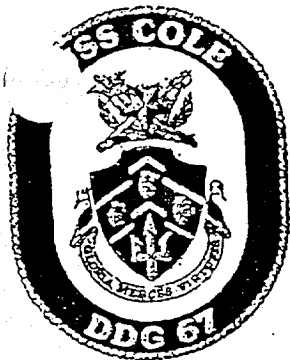

TRASH DISPOSAL NOTE: Trash will be accepted in the trash disposal room (2-242-2) daily from 0800-0900 and 1800-2000. All trash must be separated in three bags: (1) plastic (2) paper, cardboard and food (3) metal & glass. If trash not separated it will not be accepted. The chipper/shredder is unable to process any type of rags, Chem-wipes, or cloth material. Please make arrangements to collect them separately to be disposed of over the side. All work centers and berthing compartments should have three containers.

FWD DECON CLEANLINESS NOTE: The Personal Sailor Telephone located in FWD DECON is a privilege we all share. Please do not leave trash or wrappers in the space while using the phone or else the privilege will be suspended.

SCUTTLEBUTT NOTE: It has come to the attention of Auxiliaries Division that several scuttlebutts around the ship have recently been damaged. Handles are being ripped off and valves are being secured, unnecessarily. It is not fair to your shipmates to be destroying the scuttlebutts. Having unlimited use of water at sea is a privilege that many other sailors in the fleet do not have. Don't let a good thing go to waste. If you know of any damaged scuttlebutts around the ship please inform Auxiliaries Division, so we can repair them in a timely manner.

4. SAFETY NOTE: An E-3 dislocated his shoulder while opening his berthing locker. The locker support stanchion slipped and while he tried to keep the locker open, he slipped and the top fell on this shoulder.

5. POSTAL NOTE: As of 0900, 9 September 2000, free mail privileges were granted by MEDMAIL in accordance with the United States Postal Service. The following items can be sent back to the U. S. within the following guidelines:

1. Anything up to, but not more than 12 ounces can be mailed.
2. Any handwritten, typed, or photographic material (audio and video tapes) can be mailed.
3. Write the word "FREE" in the upper right hand corner of the envelope, post card, or small container.
4. Ship's official mail is not authorized for free mail!

For questions regarding the Free Mail Privileges contact [REDACTED] at Ext. 1600.

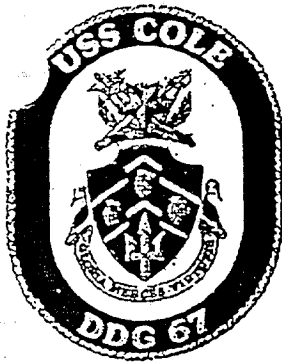

CHECK CASHING RESPONSIBILITY NOTE: All hands are reminded to balance their checkbook carefully, especially in cashing checks for port visits. A bounced check not only is embarrassing and costly, but it is a violation of the UCMJ as well.

7. ABSENTEE BALLOT VOTING FOR NOVEMBER PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS NOTE: If anyone is interested in exercising their right to vote in the upcoming National elections please contact the Communications Officer or [REDACTED]. We will provide you a form to fill out that takes about 5 minutes. These absentee/registration forms needs to be mailed off the ship before departing Koper, Slovenia as many states require an absentee request before 09 OCT.

8. OPSEC NOTE: A USAF member was approached while attending the World Computer Congress 2000 at the China International Exhibition Center in Beijing. The USAF member was approached by a European booth attendant who asked him to sign up for a contest and helped him fill out the entry form, written in Chinese. During the course of filling out the application, she asked questions concerning his occupation. He admitted to being an Electronics Engineer with the USAF Aeronautical System Center and proceeded to volunteer other information concerning the nature of his work. He soon realized that he was being followed around the Exhibition Center and was eventually approached by Chinese security personnel who asked him for his ID and copied his personal information. He finally left the facility after being followed by two Chinese policeman. The questioning of DOD members by foreign nationals attending overseas and INCONUS conferences is commonplace. The USAF member became more of a target by disclosing information concerning his affiliation with the US government. Additionally, by stating that his employment information was on his visa he enabled the officer to gain further information and perhaps provide avenues for future surveillance. Remember, when approached by suspicious individuals asking too many questions - SILENCE IS GOLDEN!

4. SAFETY NOTE: A BM2 crushed two fingertips while hauling in the motor whale boat at the rail to prevent it from hitting a crane on the pier. While cranking the boat back aboard, the handle came loose from the stud holding it in place. This pinned the BM2's hand bet the impact guard and the hand crank.

PLAIN'S CORNER: John Newton signed on with a slave ship leaving from Africa with its "cargo." He was an experienced sailor and navigator, but his cursing and blaspheming turned hardened sailors' ears red. Soon the ship was caught in a horrible storm and was taking in water. The crew had to pump 24 hours a day to stay afloat. But the constant wind rocked the boat so dangerously that the sailors had to tie themselves to the deck to keep from being swept overboard. At one point, several of the crew tried to throw Newton overboard. They figured that God was punishing him like Jonah of the Old Testament. The captain declared that the only way the ship would make it in to safe harbor was by God's power. He commanded everyone—including Newton—to pray.

"God, if You're true," Newton prayed earnestly, "make good your Word. Cleanse my vile heart."

After four weeks of storms and constant brushes with death, the ship limped into an Irish port. John Newton, former "free thinker," former slave trader and atheist, declared his faith in Jesus. He became a well-known preacher and writer. In fact, we chiefly know him as the author of the hymn "Amazing Grace."

4. SAFETY NOTE: A PO3 assigned to an HSL Detachment fractured his pelvis while watching swells on the ship's fantail with a shipmate. A giant swell crashed over the side of the ship and knocked both sailors to the deck. The PO3 went sliding. A stanchion between the legs kept him from going over the slide. After two days SIQ, the detachment disembarked. Later, the PO3 visited a flight surgeon who diagnosed a fractured pelvis. The PO3 spent six more days SIQ and 56 days limited duty. The inexperience of the PO3 (5 weeks at sea) led him to use poor judgement regarding the weather and possible associated dangers while aboard a ship.

5. CHAPLAIN'S CORNER: A ship's mate once challenged a chaplain with the question, "How is it that you are always talking to my men about Jesus Christ? Did you ever see Him?" "No, I never did." "Then how can you tell a man to trust in someone you have never seen? I can't see any sense in that." "Well," replied the chaplain, "when you head for a place of refuge in a storm, what sense is there in telling your men to let go the anchor when they cannot see the ground? On what principle do you trust your ship and your life to ground you have never seen and never can see?" "Oh," said the mate, "we go by our chart." "Exactly," replied the chaplain, holding up his Bible, "and I, too, go by a chart, and it is an infallible one, while yours is not. It tells me of the only sure ground of my salvation--the atoning work of Christ upon the cross. My faith, like your anchor, takes hold of this unseen but real ground, and so rides out the storm of life in peace and safety."

NOTE: I have received two shoe boxes to raffle, one for a male sailor and one for a female sailor. The raffle tickets are $1.00 each. There are a lot of goodies, personal hygiene, and other surprises in each box. You can come by and get a raffle ticket as well as see the nicely wrapped shoe boxes. The money will go to the Family Support Group for the homecoming fund. Our Family Support Group plans to show an excellent homecoming welcome.

On another note, the USO is having a Christmas show for the deployed sailors families. They will be taping early enough so that they can send it to us, hopefully to get to us in time for the holidays. Also, the Family Support Group is taping a 14 November Christmas tape at a potluck Thanksgiving dinner to send to the ship for our sailors from our families back home.

7. COMSIXTHFLT VISIT TO COLE NOTE: [REDACTED] who is Commander Sixth Fleet, will be visiting COLE Monday, 18 September, 1300-1400. He led the Navy's side of the war against the former Yugoslavia and was very successful. In preparation for his visit, all hand must do their part in ensuring their spaces are clean. You will also have an opportunity to ask him operational type questions. Examples of some questions might be what impact does the US Navy is having in this region or why we station ships here. You could also ask him what is going on in the former Yugoslavia or why the US should care. This is his area of expertise so we should take advantage of it. He probably is not that familiar with issues involving careers or BUPERS policies.

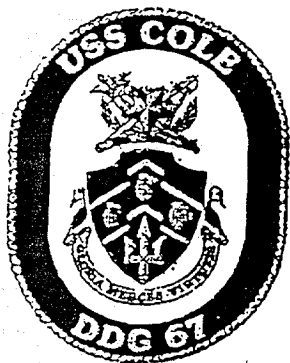

8. QUOTE OF THE DAY: "I hope that someday we will be able to put away our fears and prejudices and just laugh at people."

4. CHAPLAIN'S CORNER:

Though bound in one cover, contains sixty-six books.
 Takes in a period of over 1,600 years.
 Written at different times by more than forty men.
 Its writers were men of different ranks—law-givers, kings, princes, physicians, peasants, and fishermen.
 It is read in every pulpit in the land.
 It finds a place in the palace of the King, and the cottage of the peasant.
 It has a message for everyone—the aged man, the little child, the weary, the glad, and the sad.
 The New Testament tells us Christ did come, as the Old Testament said He would come.

5. SAFETY NOTE: The death of a 21 year old LCPL who drowned is the third marine to die while swimming in just 11 days! All three lost their lives when caught in strong currents in Japanese waters. The most recent drowning occurred when the LCPL entered the water from a beach during typhoon condition. This condition is set when imminent storm danger threatens the safety of personnel and property. In these conditions no one is supposed to be outside. The LCPL was swept to sea. Water sports such as swimming and diving are killers and pose a very real and imminent danger. Twenty-one marines and sailors died while swimming since FY 97. Six of the 11 marine fatalities occurred in Japan. The words "carried away by currents" or "swept out to sea" are used frequently to describe drownings. In some instances the dangers are obvious - strong wind, pounding waves and steep beach inclines, and sure indicators of peril. In other situations the water surface can appear deceptively calm yet have dangerous underlying currents. Currents are created when water rushes through restrictive channels and depressions as in rivers and between sandbars or troughs at the beach. The term rip current or rip tide is used to describe the violence and speed of this fast-moving water. survivors tell stories of terrifying fights for survival. Trying to swim against a strong rip current is exhausting and next to impossible, even for the strongest swimmer. If you find yourself caught in a rip current you must not panic. Survival requires that you stay in control and conserve your energy. Don't try to swim against the current back to shore. Focus on swimming across the current. Eventually you will swim out of it and be able to swim safely to shore. The best line of defense is to swim in areas where lifeguards are present. Remember risk management? Every leader should use it to take a proactive approach to water survival. Risk management helps identify hazards and ranks them in order of severity. Focus on the most dangerous and brief your personnel. Include the following: Identify hazards of local waters during all inbriefs of newly assigned personnel including those on TAD. Local hazards include rip currents, rough surf and severe weather. Swim only in designated areas. Don't drink and swim. Post warning flags indicating dangerous beach conditions or other hazards. Practice the buddy system; never swim alone. The period from 15 May to 30 November is particularly dangerous. This is hurricane/typhoon season. Sustained winds 74 mph or higher and dangerously high water and waves can be expected. Dangerous water conditions commonly continue even after winds have abated. caution is required. During or immediately following hurricane/typhoon conditions rogue waves along the beach may appear out of nowhere and carry you out to sea. Think prevention. Think risk management. Stay out of the water during inclement weather and during its approach and departure.

4. CHAPLAIN'S CORNER:

Socrates taught for 40 years, Plato for 50, Aristotle for 40 and Jesus for only 3 1/2 years. Yet the influence of Christ's ministry infinitely transcends the impact left by the combined years of teaching from these greatest of philosophers. Jesus painted no pictures, yet some of the finest artists such as Raphael, Michelangelo, and Leonardo da Vinci received their inspiration from Him. Jesus wrote no poetry, but Dante, Milton and scores of the world's greatest poets were inspired by Him. Jesus composed no music; still Haydn, Handel, Beethoven, Bach and Mendelssohn reached their highest perfection of melody in the music they composed in His praise. Every sphere of human greatness has been enriched by this humble Carpenter of Nazareth.

5. POSTAL NOTE: As of 0900, 9 September 2000, free mail privileges were granted by MEDMAIL in accordance with the United States Postal Service. The following items can be sent back to the U. S. within the following guidelines:

1. Anything up to, but not more than 12 ounces can be mailed.
- Any handwritten, typed, or photographic material (audio and video tapes) can be mailed.
- Write the word "FREE" in the upper right hand corner of the envelope, post card, or small container.
- Ship's official mail is not authorized for free mail!

For questions regarding the Free Mail Privileges contact [REDACTED] at Ext. 1600.

6. MESS DECK ATTIRE NOTE: Personal cleanliness and attire on the mess decks during meal hours is important for all crewmembers. This is important not only for sanitation purposes, but for having a good meal experience. That is, no one wants to eat next to someone who is wearing a dirty set of coveralls or dungarees. Although it may seem inefficient to change, it is appreciated by all hands. All coveralls and dungarees are required to have the proper name tags and insignia. Organizational clothing will not be allowed on the mess decks. Wearing of properly marked clean dungarees, coveralls or the uniform of the day is authorized.

7. OPSEC NOTE: Telephone Security: Unencrypted telephone (including INMARSAT) conversations are the greatest OPSEC weaknesses in the Mediterranean. Uncovered telephones are vulnerable to monitoring at switching and transmission points, with key transmission paths often via radio links (microwave). Any classified information transmitted over these links must be assumed to be compromised. Ensure no sensitive information is passed via e-mail or unencrypted telephones.

8. CBR FAN ROOM NOTE: Fan rooms and Decon Stations are not storage areas. Any gear found in these areas will be unmercilessly thrown overboard. Stowing gear in these areas is a safety and combat hazard and will not be tolerated.

9. CMC NOTE: I have received two shoe boxes to raffle, one for a male sailor and one for a female sailor. The raffle tickets are $1.00 each. There are a lot of goodies, personal hygiene, and other surprises in each box. You can come by and get a raffle ticket as well as see the nicely wrapped shoe boxes. 4. CHAPLAIN'S CORNER: On a wall in the Vatican, an artist sought to express the relationship between three spiritual gifts. He represented Love as standing up attending to the needs of those around her, and Hope as looking upward with prophetic expectation. Both of them, however, are standing on another form named Faith who has her arms around the cross to which she clings for support.

5. POSTAL NOTE: As of 0900, 9 September 2000, free mail privileges were granted by MEDMAIL in accordance with the United States Postal Service. The following items can be sent back to the U. S. within the following guidelines:

1. Anything up to, but not more than 12 ounces can be mailed.
2. Any handwritten, typed, or photographic material (audio and video tapes) can be mailed.
3. Write the word "FREE" in the upper right hand corner of the envelope, post card, or small container.
4. Ship's official mail is not authorized for free mail!

For questions regarding the Free Mail Privileges contact [REDACTED] at Ext. 1600.

6. MESS DECK ATTIRE NOTE: Personal cleanliness and attire on the mess decks during meal hours is important for all crewmembers. This is important not only for sanitation purposes, but for having a good meal experience. That is, no one wants to eat next to someone who is wearing a dirty set of coveralls or dungarees. Although it may seem inefficient to change, it is appreciated by all hands. All coveralls and dungarees are required to have the proper name tags and insignia. Organizational clothing will not be allowed on the mess decks. Wearing properly marked clean dungarees, coveralls or the uniform of the day is authorized.

7. OPSEC NOTE: Telephone Security: Unencrypted telephone (including INMARSAT) conversations are the greatest OPSEC weaknesses in the Mediterranean. Uncovered telephones are vulnerable to monitoring at switching and transmission points, with key transmission paths often via radio links (microwave). Any classified information transmitted over these links must be assumed to be compromised. Ensure no sensitive information is passed via e-mail or unencrypted telephones.

8. SMALL ARMS NOTE: Small Arms Training will be conducted on the flight deck for the personnel designated below. You must attend the "classroom" training held immediately prior to firing. Failure to attend the class will prevent you from shooting. Bring personal hearing protection. Safety glasses will be provided. Personnel underline are on VBSS and MUST qualify. Personnel marked with an asterisk (*) after their names have expired quals and have head-of-the-line privileges.

4. CHAPLAIN'S CORNER: Do you feel that you have lost your way in life? Then God Himself will show you your way. Are you utterly helpless, worn out, body and soul? Then God's eternal love is ready and willing to help you up, and revive you. Are you wearied with doubts and terrors? Then God's eternal light is ready to show you your way; God's eternal peace ready to give you peace. Do you feel yourself full of sins and faults? Then take heart; for God's unchangeable will is to take away those sins and purge you from those faults. —Charles Kingsley

5. HISPANIC HERITAGE MONTH NOTE: 15 September through 15 October is Hispanic Heritage month! Hispanics and the military have a long history. Admiral David G. Farragut, an Hispanic, while serving the Union Navy during the Civil War left us the famous words "Damn the torpedoes, full speed ahead."

6. ADRIATIC NOTE: As of course everyone knows we are siting approximately 25 miles off the coast of the Former Republic of Yugoslavia and specifically the semi-autonomous republic of Montenegro. First off a quick explanation of names and geography. After the fall of the Soviet Union and the death of TITO (the last real ruler of the country of Yugoslavia) Yugoslavia split into 5 separate countries. Those countries are Slovenia, Croatia, Bosnia-Herzegovina, the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia and the Former Yugoslavian Republic of
ia. The Federal Republic of Yugoslavia is the country of the United States' greatest concern. If names are confusing you here's a de. The Former Republic of Yugoslavia (the FRY for short), The Republic of Yugoslavia, Serbia, Montenegro and Kosovo ARE ALL THE SAME COUNTRY. Kosovo and Montenegro are provinces of the FRY. United Nations, NATO and American peacekeepers are in Kosovo and the United States is trying to make sure that what happened in Kosovo last year (ethnic cleansing) doesn't happen in Montenegro. The FRY's leader, Slobodan Milosevic, is holding an election this Monday that will be highly contested, but most likely rigged in his favor. As a show of US resolve to maintaining peace in the Balkans Adriatic region and to prevent Milosevic and the Yugoslavian army from rolling into Montenegro, COLE and much of the current US 6th Fleet are operating here in the Adriatic. This was very brief note about why we're operating here in the Adriatic. If you have any questions please email me and I'll do the best I can to answer any questions.

7. MOVIE SCHEDULE NOTE: CE Division would like to invite all divisions to have equal opportunity in choosing the movies that are played on Site TV. Each week, in 3 day blocks, each division will have the opportunity to choose the 4 movies shown on one channel of Site. Be creative: perhaps have a "James Bond" night, "Bad "B" Movie night", etc. You get the idea. The entire list of movies is now posted on the "S" drive of the Lan. The only thing we ask is that you refrain from choosing "R" rated movies to show during lunch. If you need more information about a movie, stop by Aft IC or call X6143 for assistance. Division Leading Petty Officers are responsible to ensure the movie choices are emailed to the ship's office for print in the POD and to [REDACTED]

CHAPLAIN'S CORNER: Tourists stand in wondering admiration before some of the palaces of the old world that have endured for more than a thousand years without a crack or seam. The Pantheon at Rome stands just as it did well over two thousand years ago. This would be impossible had not its foundations been right. The Rialto Bridge that spans the Grand Canal in Venice was erected in AD 1588. It has stood as it now stands for over four centuries, but that bridge rests on twelve thousand piles driven deeply into the soil. What is true of buildings is also true of life. God cannot and will not build the Christian virtues into your life, or fill you with the Holy Spirit for His service, until the proper foundation of receiving Christ and Him crucified as your Savior and Lord has been laid.

ADRIATIC NOTE: As of course everyone knows we are siting approximately 25 miles off the coast of the Former Republic of Yugoslavia and specifically the semi-autonomous republic of Montenegro. First off a quick explanation of names and geography. After the fall of the Soviet Union and the death of TITO (the last real ruler of the country of Yugoslavia) Yugoslavia split into 5 separate countries. The Federal Republic of Yugoslavia is the country of the United States' greatest concern. If names are confusing you here's a quick guide. The Former Republic of Yugoslavia (the FRY for short), The Republic of Yugoslavia, Serbia, Montenegro and Kosovo ARE ALL THE SAME COUNTRY. Kosovo and Montenegro are provinces of the FRY. SAFETY NOTE: A GSM2 burned his arm, side, and neck while removing a condensate valve. After tagging out four valves to provide two-valve protection, he drained the pressure and waited 30 minutes. When the steam header pressure read 0 PSI, the GSM2 started to loosen the valve bonnet bolts. After removing the bonnet and stem, and then reinserting the stem, condensate sprayed onto the GSM2. He spent 5 days in the hospital and lost 30 workdays. The faulty valve was missing from the system diagram. EOSS diagrams are a reference you need to verify.

4. HISPANIC HERITAGE MONTH NOTES: Rigoberta Menchu, an activist in the conflict between indigenous people and the military government of Guatemala, was the first indigenous woman and the youngest person ever to be awarded the Nobel Prize for Peace in 1992. Mencu struggled to achieve social justice and peace in Guatemala, where the military government destroyed her family. The struggle continued when she used $1.2 million Nobel Peace Prize money to set up a foundation in her father's name. Her work served as the impetus behind the United Nations' declaration of 1993 as the International Year for Indigenous Populations.

5. CHAPLAIN'S CORNER: When a Roman penny was made, the image or likeness of Caesar the emperor was stamped upon it, and those who used it were reckoned as his subjects and expected to obey his laws. Ages ago God Himself made something and stamped His likeness upon it, as a sign that it belonged to Him and must be used in His service. It was not a coin God made. It was a man. And God's image has been stamped upon each of us to show that we were made, not to follow our own pleasure, but to serve him.

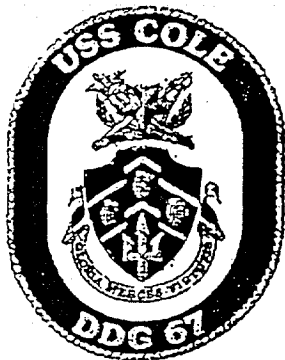

6. JEWISH HIGH HOLY DAYS NOTE: At Sundown on 29 September 2000, Rosh Hashanah (Jewish New Year) begins and continues through sunset 1 October 2000. Yom Kippur (Day of Atonement) begins at sundown 8 October 2000 and concludes at sundown 10 October 2000. The high holy days are a time of forgiveness, renewal, and recommitment. Yom Kippur, the holiest day in the Jewish calendar, is the celebration of sacred days with an emphasis on self-denial and a promise to improve through repentance and recommitment. I send my sincerest best wishes to all Jewish personnel this holiday season. May you and your families be granted peace and prosperity. Shanah Tovah Tikatevu. RADM Roughhead sends.

7. XO'S NOTE: This Friday night will be another episode of "Who wants to be a Millionaire" broadcast live on location from the Mess Decks. Tickets go on sale Wednesday at lunch with LTJG [REDACTED]. Improvements from last time include instant awarding of prizes from the ship's store, no shave/let hair down chit, and surf the internet for a day. Grand prize will be a free overnight liberty chit for one night hotel room in Dubai, UAE. Prices for the tickets will be $1.00 Wednesday and Thursday and will increase to $2.00 Friday. Tickets for contestants will be drawn Friday night. And back by popular demand is LTJG [REDACTED] as MC!

8. FORWARD PALLET STAGING AREA AEROBICS AND WEIGHT ROOMS NOTE: All personnel are reminded to pick up after themselves when they have completed their workout. Please ensure that you wipe down your machine, place your weights in the proper place and take all your trash with you. Personnel radios are not permitted in the Forward Pallet Staging Area, but you may wear headphones while working out. No boots of any kind may be worn while running on the treadmills.

9. YUGOSLAV OPPOSITION VOWS TO FIGHT FRAUD: Yugoslav opposition leader have rejected the official results of the country's presidential elections and pledged to defend the will of the people. President Slobodan Milosevic defied international and domestic appeals for him to step down, saying he had enough votes to secure a second round run-off. However, opposition leader Vojislav Kostunica said in a statement. "This is an offer which must be rejected". The opposition is planning a massive rally in central Belgrade on Wednesday night to defend the results. Opposition leaders have demanded to see the election commission's announcement that Milosevic had lost. The commission reported that Kostunica finished with 48.22 percent while Milosevic earned 40.23 percent. Under Yugoslav law, a run-off, set for October 8, is required since not of the candidates received more than 50 percent. State television said the turnout was 64 percent, far below the 74 percent figure given by the opposition. The U.S. has pledged to lean an international campaign to pressure Milosevic into accepting the outcome. "Despite the government's attempts to manipulate the vote, it does seem clear that the people have voted for change", President Clinton Said. Milosevic appeared to have lost his "last vestige of legitimacy," he added. A run-off would give Milosevic time to create more favorable conditions for the next round and the chance to clamp down on opposition media and activists. He would also be able to resume his nationalist campaign portraying Kostunica as a "NATO lackey and Western stooge." However, Kostunica, a law professor who surprised Milosevic with his widespread appeal, countered, saying there was "no single reason, not moral or political, by which we would accept such trampling on the electoral will of the citizens. "The victory is obvious and we will defend it by all non-violent means," he said. "The people have given their political no to Milosevic and his policies. Our first duty is to carry out that verdict."

4. CHAPLAIN'S CORNER: There is a pair of famous bronze gates in the city of Florence, which Michael Angelo, in a burst of admiration, declared were fit to be the gates of Paradise. They are paneled with noble figures and dainty pictures. Once they were gilded, and Dante referred to them as "The Golden Gates." But the centuries have worn off the gold--so that hardly a particle is left now. Still the fine masterly work of the artist abides in the solid bronze, looking none the less impressive in its severe simplicity. So while the years may wear away many meritorious accomplishments and much of the glitter of the natural life, the graces firmly ingrained in our soul by the Great Master of all Arts and Hearts will abide. No change can touch these, for "though our outward man perish, the inward man is renewed day to day" (2 Corinthians 4:16).

5. XO'S NOTE: Tonight will be another episode of "Who wants to be a Millionaire" broadcast live on location from the Mess Decks. Prices for tickets are $1.00. 4. CHAPLAIN'S CORNER: During World War II, an enemy submarine approached a fleet of ships in the North Atlantic. The captain of one vessel spotted the white mark of a torpedo coming directly at his ship. His transport was loaded with literally hundreds and hundreds of young soldiers on the way to the European front. He realized they would not have time to maneuver to avoid the torpedo. He grabbed the loudspeaker and cried out, "Boys, this is it!" Nearby, though, a little escorting destroyer also observed the torpedo. The captain ordered, "Full speed ahead." His ship steamed into the path of the torpedo. The destroyer was blown up; it sank very quickly. Every man on it was lost. The captain of the troop transport ship sadly commented, "The skipper of that destroyer was my best friend." Now one verse in the Bible has an even deeper meaning for that captain: "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friend" (John 15:13).

4. SGT. COLE'S PERSONAL DIARY NOTE: The following is an excerpt from the personal diary of SGT Darrel S. Cole dated May 10, 1943: "I am going to try to set down as many of the events that happened to me, from 'boot camp' up to the present. Of course, hundreds of things will have to be left out due to loss of memory, and other unavoidable circumstances. To start with, I was a foot-loose vagabond before enlisting in the Marine Corps. I have tried my hardest at doing nearly everything, and succeeded at nothing simply because it never held any interest enough for me to continue it. The following are the things I have done and tried - all interesting while it lasted. I ran away from home at a 10 years of age. I burned a barn down at 3 years of age with my brother Stanley. I held a janitor job in the 8th grade at 14 years old. In high school, I was on the track team (mile run) and Vice President of the Dramatics Club, Editor-in-Chief of the high school annual (yearbook), was in the senior play, band, Boys Glee Club, Mixed Chorus, Boys Quartet, Pep Squad, and French Horn Trio. I graduated out of 12th grade in 3 years at age 17."

5. CHAPLAIN'S NOTE: The story is told in Greek annals of history of a soldier who was suffering from a deadly sickness. This sickness was so serious, doctors feared that he would soon die. The soldier was, however, a very brave man. In battle, he was always the first to charge, for he did not fear for his life. His commander saw his bravery and coordinated efforts to treat his disease. He was healed miraculously. After this change in his life, the soldier no longer sought to fight in battle. Instead, he sought a life of ease and comfort to care for his health and family he had previously neglected. So often it is so with believers. While the fierce battle rages, we claim God's strength, and it is through his grace we are victorious and brave. When the battle is less strenuous, and we are able to "relax" spiritually, oftentimes complacency sets in. The world and our flesh become the focal point of our lives instead of seek' God's grace for every moment of our lives.

8. SRB NOTE: According to the most recent SRB instruction -
 Any enlisted member may cancel up to 24 months of a non-operative (not in effect yet) extension provided:
 a. the extension is canceled before it becomes operative
 b. the member reenlist for at least two years beyond existing EAOS as extended, provided no bonus has been paid.
 (the extension period will not be counted against the bonus)
 c. the member's reenlistment is in the same fiscal year as their EAOS

Encl (60)

Samples of reenlistment bonuses are:

Facts: PO3 under 4 yrs. / Base Pay $1447.20 / Award level 3.0
 EAOS 010908 + 24 mo. ext. = EAOS as extended 030908 + 2 yr. minimum reenlistment = 050908 New EAOS
 Case 1: PO3 desires a 4 yr. reenlistment on 010108; the new EAOS would be 050107 which is less than 050908 so member would not be eligible to cancel and draw SRB for the 24 mo. ext, they would only be entitled to 16 months of SRB
 48 mo. reenlistment - 8 mo. reenlistment (prior to EAOS) - 24 mo. extension = 16 mo. of SRB = $5,788.80
 Case 2: PO3 desires a 5 yr. reenlistment on 010108; the new EAOS would be 060107 which is greater than 050908 so the member will be eligible for 59 mo. of SRB

reenlistment - 8 mo. reenlistment (prior to EAOS) - 0 (24 mo. canceled ext) = 52 mo. of SRB = $18,813.60
 Case 3: PO3 desires a 4 yr. reenlistment on 010908; the new EAOS would be 050907 which is equal to the minimum EAOS and is entitled to 48 mo. of SRB.
 reenlistment - 0 mo. early reenlistment - 0 (24 mo canceled ext) = 48 mo. of SRB = $17,366.40

following personnel may be eligible for the 2001 Fiscal year:

FC3	FC3	FC3	ET3	IC2	EM2	EW3	IC3

9. DOMESTIC VIOLENCE PREVENTION MONTH NOTE: 1). President Clinton has designated October as "Domestic Violence Prevention Month." The Secretary of Defense fully supports this national effort to prevent domestic violence and so does the U.S. Marine Corps. Domestic violence is a cancer on our society. It is a sickness that must be eradicated during this generation or it will continue to replicate itself. Domestic violence often leads to other crimes of violence, low self-esteem, substance abuse, poor work performance, absenteeism, and escalating medical expenses. 2). Marines must set the example by

4. SGT. COLE'S PERSONAL DIARY NOTE: The following is an excerpt from the personal diary of SGT Darrel S. Cole dated May 10, 1943: "I joined Civil Construction Corps for fourteen months, and served as Assistant Educational Advisor and Forest Service Clerk, and drove Caterpillars and operated jackhammers. I did timber work and planted trees. I studied map-reading, blue prints, and Forestry Course under the Forest Service Foreman. I learned photography and developed, enlarged, and printed for the camp. I was rated Assistant Leader. I got an honorable discharge to accept outside employment. I was a Superintendent of Sunday School, and was president of B.Y.P.U. I sang in choir and the church quartet. I was a salesman for Kansas City Brokers. I sold household items, everything from fly spray to cosmetics. I drove tractors one summer. All night work. In Kansas. I have been in nearly every state in the Union by riding freights. I went to Detroit and worked as a truck driver, storeroom clerk, as A. A. Olenders & Son, and at Fordson Hotel in Dearborn, Michigan, as a bell-boy and troubleshooter. I worked for Wolverine manufacturing and Fabricating Company as assistant Skivver, assistant cork maker, then cork operator. I left there to enter the service. I was becoming too fond of wine, women, and song. I made good money, but the night clubs got moist of it. I was not getting anywhere, so enlisted."

5. CHAPLANS NOTE: On a January evening in 1897, a British ship was in awful peril on the Vancouver coast near Cape Beale. For four days the captain saw neither sun nor stars on account of dense fog. One day, at noon, a shout of "Breakers ahead!" was the first warning he had of the dangerous position in which he was placed. A heavy sea was running at the time, and an attempt to weather the ship proved futile. The anchors were then let go, and, as the big ship rounded, one of the cables parted, leaving her within one hundred feet of the shore and in immediate danger of parting the other cable. Breakers were running forty feet high, and as there was no possibility, apparently, of saving the vessel, it was finally decided to launch the boats and attempt to reach shore. Several boats were capsized as soon as launched, but finally the officers and crew of thirty-three men escaped safely through the surf. The sailors spent the night under the upturned lifeboat. In the morning the weather had moderated, and as, to their great astonishment and delight, the ship still headed to her, the captain and crew boarded her, and setting sail, soon escaped from the dangerous position. Let no man give up because he has been shipwrecked at ashore. Board the ship of the Christian life again and set sail. Paul did that after his shipwreck, and God gave him a great host to bring with him into harbor of heaven.

The Secretary of Defense fully supports this national effort to prevent domestic violence and so does the U.S. Marine Corps. Domestic violence is a cancer on our society. It is a sickness that must be eradicated during this generation or it will continue to replicate itself. Domestic violence often leads to other crimes of violence, low self-esteem, substance abuse, poor work performance, absenteeism, and escalating medical expenses. 2). Marines must set the example by mentoring those who may be aggressors or victims. Aggressors must know that domestic violence will not be tolerated and that they may be subject to UCMJ action. Victims must recognize that they are not alone and that the corps has the resources and resolve to end domestic violence. Commanders and supervisors are strongly encouraged to schedule domestic violence prevention briefings, for their staff, through the installation Marine Corps Community Services (MCCS) Office. Domestic violence awareness videos and literature are also available. 3). The MCCS has a prevention component that is in place to educate the community about domestic violence prevention. There is also a component to treat this problem, once it is identified. All Marines, marine families, and civilians are encouraged to become knowledgeable about domestic violence. The tools and professionals are available at your installation MCCS. With a strong knowledge base and a firm resolve, domestic violence prevention month will become a year-round endeavor. 4). Point of contact is (703) 784-9526 or DSN 278-9526.

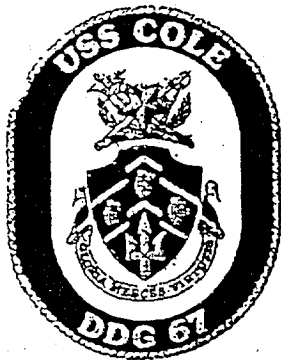

THE FOLLOWING FOR ARMY RC-12 MISSION NOTE: Bravo Zulu for your superb support for the new initiative. Feedback from XTHFLT indicated that the Army was very pleased and appreciated all the communications support and flight following services provided. You have in place a process that will be used again in the future. Again, thank for the support in improving CTF60 operations. Commodore [redacted] ends.

Cole dated May 10, 1943: "I was sent to Paris Island, S.C. and was trained under Sergeant Ready and Pfc Lawry. I was forced to go into Music School by a colonel, due my previous band experience. I hate it intensely and still do yet. I was told by the colonel that I could transfer if I did not like it. Naturally, he refused after I was in. I enlisted with Raymond Rion, a hometown friend. I had quite a time in boot camp. I joined to fight, and was put blowing a bugle. There is a right way and the Marine Corps way; naturally it's easy to see which way we go. As the Marine Corps as a whole, I am pretty damn proud of it. I think no other service equal it, and not because I am a member. But there are some stupid pig-headed officer who would rather regard their bars as tin gods, rather than the one-half of the Marine Corps they are. I am glad they are in the minority. But just one can be enough hell."

5. CHAPLAIN'S NOTE: There is something pathetic in the story of the ship Francis, of New Bedford, Massachusetts, which was wrecked on the New Jersey coast. The ship had had a four-months voyage of fair sailing, and the captain and crew were hopeful of closing a pleasant journey in a day or so, when suddenly, in sight of land, and almost in sight of the harbor, the ship took fire and both the vessel and the cargo were destroyed. The officers and crew escaped only with their lives. It is sad to go down in sight of port. There are many such wrecks of the moral and spiritual kind—men and women who have made honorable careers, but who forfeit all their gain of a lifetime by some sad lapse into sin when almost in sight of the port of "old age." The middle-aged and the old need to be watchful as well as the young. It is the one that endures to the end that shall be rewarded.

6. SCBA/EEED/EGRESS/SEED TRAINING NOTE: All personnel are required to conduct SCBA/EEED/EGRESS/SEED Training semi-annually. This training is MANDATORY and must be attended by all crew members. If you are unable to attend on your department's scheduled day, you must attend on another day. Training will take approximately 40 minutes and will be held on the flight deck. Please make arrangements to rotate personnel through watch

SCBA/EEED Operations

Emergency Egress Training will be completed by division. Egress Training consists of blindfolded escape from working, berthing and watchstanding spaces. Training POs will submit muster sheets to Department Heads after completion. Emergency Egress Training must be completed by 08 Oct.

7. DOMESTIC VIOLENCE PREVENTION MONTH NOTE: October is designated as Domestic Violence Prevention and Awareness Month

This year's theme is "There is no room for Domestic Violence in the Navy Family."

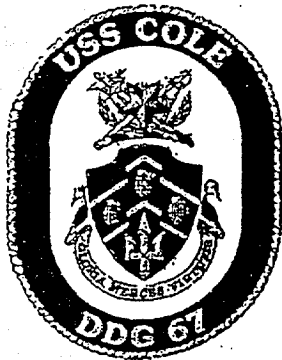

Domestic violence has a negative impact on Navy readiness and retention and is incompatible with Navy Core Values. It is also cyclical in nature. Exposure to violence, either directly or through witnessing violence between caretakers, is the most common risk factor associated with perpetrating violence in adulthood. The Navy's Prevention efforts include: Command Education and Training Programs, Life Skills Education Programs, Individual, Couples, Family and Group counseling through Family Service Centers; return and reunion programs; and the new parent support program. All offered through the FSC.

Navy is committed to putting an end to domestic violence by providing education and training at all levels throughout the military community, as well as providing intervention and treatment support, victim services and referral, and programs targeted to changing abusive behavior; via the Family Advocacy Program. The challenge is for everyone to become involved and make it our duty to stop the violence.

Domestic violence is not a private matter. In 1999, there were 2,242 substantiated spouse abuse incidents in the Navy (some of these were COLE sailors). Over 85 percent of those incidents included some type of physically abusive behavior. It will take participation from all hands to put an end to domestic violence in the Navy. If you or someone you know has been involved in a domestic violence incident, contact your local Family Advocacy Program or civilian/military law enforcement agency. Domestic Violence is a serious matter.

4. SGT. COLE'S PERSONAL DIARY NOTE: The following is an excerpt from the personal diary of SGT Darrel S. Cole dated May 10, 1943: "At last the great day comes. After tons of scuttlebutt, calculations, hard training, landing maneuvers, after drawing all of our equipment, we were shoving off. I was on board B train, with Lacy for the cross-continent trip of better than 4000 miles, due to the zip-zagging of troop trains. We were not told San Francisco was the point of embarkation; that was supposed to be a secret. My lieutenant wrote the name of paper and "accidentally" dropped it in front of us. San Francisco it was. It was hard to leave Raymond Rion back there when we pulled out of New River. I knew he wanted to go as badly as I did. And I figured that it was the last time I would see him. He figured the same I suppose. After boarding the pullmans, one man to a seat and berth, we stowed away all of our gear and leaned out the windows for a last look. There were no girlfriends or any of our folks there because of military secrecy, only buddies in the other outfits. The band was playing "Fighting First Marines," "Over The Hill, Let's Go Men," and just as the train whistled a long blast, they broke into the "Marine Hymn" until we gathered speed and left them behind. Officers and enlisted alike behind were waving and hollering at the top of their voices."

LAIN'S NOTE: To be convinced that one should come to the Lord Jesus Christ and confess Him before men where alone He is confessed—in the church—and then to delay, is a serious thing. The steamer Central America, on a voyage from New York to San Francisco, sprung a leak in mid-ocean. A vessel seeing her signal of distress bore down toward her, and the captain of the rescue ship cried, "Let me take your passengers aboard now." But it was night and the commander of the Central America feared to send his passengers away in the darkness; and, thinking they could keep afloat a while longer, replied, "Lie by till morning." About an hour and a half later the lights were missed. All on board perished, because they thought they could be saved better at another time. "Now is the accepted time" (2 Cor. 6:2).

6. SCBA/EEED/EGRESS/SEED TRAINING NOTE: All personnel are required to conduct SCBA/EEED/EGRESS/SEED Training semi-annually. This training is MANDATORY and must be attended by all crew members. If you are unable to attend on your departments scheduled day, you must attend on another day. Training will take approximately 40 minutes and will be held on the flight deck. Please make arrangements to rotate personnel through watch sections.

SCBA/EEED Operations

Emergency Egress Training will be completed by division. Egress Training consists of blindfolded escape from working, berthing and watchstanding spaces. Training POs will submit muster sheets to Department Heads after completion. Emergency Egress Training must be completed by 08 Oct.

7. SUNDAE ON FRIDAY NOTE: There will be an ice cream social held on the mess decks on Friday night at 2000. For entertainment pleasure we will as feature karaoke. Come join in the fun.

8. SAFETY NOTE: An MS2 was ordered to wipe out the interior of the gaylord grease interceptor hood located in the Ship's Galley. Due to the MS2's small size, the gaylord was hard to reach on the bulkhead. The MS2 climbed onto a 3-foot metal table under the control box and sat in a kneeling position to reach into the box. The MS2's left arm supported the upper body with the left hand on the left knee. The MS2 began wiping the interior of the wash tank of the gaylord with a wet, green scrubber in the right hand. The electrical side of the gaylord also was open due to a missing screw. This exposed the uninsulated backside of the two pushbutton start/stop switch contacts mounted to the door. As the MS2 leaned forward to reach in and wipe out the lower left corner of the wash-tank side, the forearm touched the two exposed contacts, completing a circuit, causing 3rd degree burns on the forearm. The flow of electricity continued through the body and exited the right index finger which was contacting the inside casing of the wash-tank side of the gaylord. The MS2 stated the shock lasted for several seconds and seemed to pull her closer to the controller. The MS lost consciousness for several minutes, was assisted by other galley personnel, and eventually transported to the hospital. The MS should have recognized the unsafe situation developing, complacency due to seeing others working around this hazard may have given the MS2 a false sense of security, ship's personnel should have replaced the screw holding the electrical side door. Additionally, the MS2 stood on a bare metal table which may have aided the flow of current from the electrical gear. She was hospitalized and spent out of work. She will likely have permanent disability, requiring a skin graft due to disfigurement of the forearm.

4. SGT. COLE'S PERSONAL DIARY NOTE: The following is an excerpt from the personal diary of SGT Darrel S. Cole dated May 10, 1943: "I suppose the first 6 hours of that train ride we did more thinking about home, friends, and everything than we ever did before. We zigzagged through the states, had a swell time, seeing all the sights, reading, etc. We went through North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, and into California. We go off the train immediately into buses to the docks and boarded the U.S.S. Erickson. She used to be the pride of the Swedish Merchant Marine, then named the "Kungsholm." We slept aboard one night, and were lost most of the time trying to find our way around her; she was an enormous ship. The next day we went aboard the U.S.S. George F. Elliott, formerly the "City of San Francisco." This was our home until landing on Guadalcanal. We went on liberty from her every night until we left. We went to Oakland, Berkeley, and San Francisco mostly and visited the famous hangouts like the U.S.O. Club Shanghai, Club Shang La Ray, Hurricane Club, and the "Jade Dragon" in Chinatown."

5. CHAPLAIN'S NOTE: The Library of Congress in Washington, D. C. is one of the most fascinating buildings in the world. Each alcove is decorated in themes such as art, music, science, philosophy, history, etc., and each alcove has been given a motto that represents its theme. Mr. A. Lewis tells us that before the motto for the alcove of religion was chosen, a petition was sent out among the leading clergymen in the nation of that time, asking them to participate in a contest to create the best motto. The motto that won the contest comes from Micah 6:8, "And what does the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God."

4. SGT. COLE'S PERSONAL DIARY NOTE: The following is an excerpt from the personal diary of SGT Darrel S. Cole dated May 10, 1943: "At last - all liberty was canceled. We weighed anchor, sail under the Oakland Bay Bridge, out past and around Alcatraz Island, under the Golden Gate Bridge, and into the sea. We were all in a small convoy of about 13 ships. We only had one tin can (destroyer) to guard us. We watched land recede far behind us, until it was out of sight. We were "sure" that is was the last we would see of the U.S. Then we all got the word that we were bound for New Zealand first. Slips of paper describing the country, people, and type of money were passed around. Before two hours had passed, we hit rough weather, and Sailors as well as Marines were green in the face, hanging over the side puking. I never really ever felt completely well anytime onboard the ship. But I've never heaved yet - cause of sea sickness."

5. CHAPLAIN'S NOTE: Charles Plumb was a jet fighter pilot in Vietnam. After some 75 combat missions, his plane was destroyed by a surface-to-air missile. Plumb ejected and parachuted into enemy hands. He was captured and spent six years in a Communist prison. He survived that ordeal and today lectures about lessons learned from that experience. One day, when Plumb and his wife were sitting in a restaurant, a man at another table came up and said, "You're Plumb! You flew jet fighters in Vietnam from the aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk. You were shot down!" "How in the world did you know that?" ask: mb. "I packed your parachute," the man replied. Plumb gasped in surprise and gratitude. The man pumped his hand and said, "I guess it we Plumb assured him, "It sure did...in fact if your chute hadn't worked, I wouldn't be here today." Plumb couldn't sleep that night, thinking about a. He kept wondering what the packer might have looked like in his Navy uniform. He wondered how many times he might have passed him on the ty Hawk. He wondered how many times he might have seen him and not even said, "Good morning, how are you?" or anything because, you see, he was a ater pilot and the packer was just a lowly sailor. Plumb thought of the many hours the sailor had spent in the paraloft carefully weaving the shrouds and folding the silks of each chute, holding in his hands each time the fate of someone he didn't know. Plumb now asks his audience, "Who's packing your parachute? We all have someone who provides what we need to get through the day, both physically and spiritually." I served aboard the Kitty Hawk as a parachute rigger off the coast of Vietnam in 1970-71. This nameless rigger may have been a friend of mine, which makes this story very meaningful to me. Let's take the time to thank someone today for the support they provide in our lives and ministries to God! -Al Maxey The Aloha Spirit

4. SGT. COLE'S PERSONAL DIARY NOTE: The following is an excerpt from the personal diary of SGT Darrel S. Cole dated May 10, 1943: "At last, I finally got my first liberty. We barely had enough time to catch "trams" (street cars) to catch on to the English money, trying to understand their talk. Not much hard liquor there, warm beer, and plenty of "milk bars," or confectioneries mostly. I, Red O'Hara and Jack Hughes decided to have "tea and crumpets," a favorite with the New Zealanders. We went in, and when the waitress came around; all three of us felt so foolish that after a few minutes Red finally ordered it. We felt like we were ordering some women's pants or brassieres - or something similar. The girls didn't know how to jitterbug when we landed - but about an hour afterward, they were all trying it. The boys there curled their hair and wore corsets. Both the boys and girls had complete sets of false teeth at 18-21 years of age, due to lack of minerals in their water there. The people were all very, very friendly, especially the girls. The girls there are very hot-natured, and very frank in the intentions."

5. SMOKING CESSATION NOTE: Each smoking cessation class will last three weeks. There will be three opportunities each week to attend that weeks session. You must attend all three classes in you session. Class Dates/Times:
1830 14 OCT 00 1830 15 OCT 00 1830 20 OCT 00 1830 21 OCT 00 1830
1830 27 OCT 00 1830 28 OCT 00 1830 29 OCT 00 1830

6. OPSEC NOTE: Recent inspection of office trash cans revealed unauthorized EEFLs in trash receptacles. PODs, old messages (regardless of classification), supply receipts and other official documents are not to be discarded in regular trash receptacles. These documents are to be placed in burn bags for destruction. Such information can be used as small parts of a bigger puzzle. Don't give the enemy any assistance.

7. NAVY'S BIRTHDAY NOTE: Our Navy has - for 225 years - always been there for America, and in fact, is older than the American republic itself. Over these years, the most tumultuous in human history, more than 170 nations have emerged or disintegrated. The founding fathers realized at the earliest stages of their great work that creating and preserving a new nation would require the capabilities unique to naval force, and they saw fit to place into federal service the first American sailors and ships. Since then, we have never failed to live up to our awesome responsibilities. In fact, over this period we have increased our power, influence and relevance to the point where what was once a small force is now universally recognized as the world's greatest Navy. While the size and shape of our Navy has changed dramatically throughout our history, the demand for our services has not waned. Throughout this evolution, the secret to our success has been a willingness to change while adhering to our core identity and values. This philosophy has guided us through the reliable performance of our duties during times of peace and war, and will be the key to our continued success in the years ahead. Birthdays are a time for joy and celebration. A 225th anniversary is especially to be savored. Happy Birthday Navy. Released by the Honorable Richard Danzig, Secretary of the Navy.

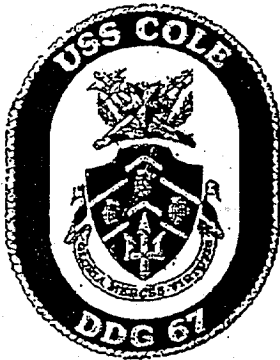

8. NAVY-MARINE CORPS INTRANET (NMCI) IMPLEMENTATIONS NOTE: Our Navy has just announced the award of a five-year contract to create and operate the NMCI. Fully employed, NMCI will be a strategic investment for the Navy in support of fleet Sailors and Marines deployed around the world, and our mission support organizations ashore. It will replace the Navy's numerous shore-based networks and will equip all commands with access, interoperability, and security by providing data services to all Navy and Marine Corps installations. When added to the Navy's shipboard IT-21 technology being implemented in the fleet now, NMCI will propel the Navy into a league with some of our most successful 21st century businesses. We must all work to ensure the full and successful implementation of NMCI. In order for NMCI to achieve its potential, we must adapt our business processes and command missions to create speed and agility. NMCI is the key to allowing this to happen. I am fully committed to the successful implementation of NMCI in the Atlantic fleet and ask for your assistance in bringing this technology to fruition. Additional information will be promulgated as it becomes available so that every Sailor and Marine will know how NMCI will benefit them personally and improve fleet readiness. ADM [REDACTED] Sends.

9. CBR NOTE: 1) MILD SYMPTOMS OF NERVE AGENT: Unexplained runny nose and sudden headache, drooling, difficulty breathing and seeing, muscles twitching, stomach cramps, and nausea. 2) SEVERE SYMPTOMS OF NERVE AGENT: Pinpointed pupils, vomiting, severe muscle twitching, incontinence, urination and defecation, and convulsions. 3) SELF-AID: Correctly identify own mild symptoms, administer 1 Atropine and 1 2-PAM-CI injector, wait 10-15 minutes for signs of symptoms diminishing, repeat injections and wait time if symptoms persist, and after 3rd injection proceed to casualty collection center for additional injections by medical personnel. 4) BUDDY-AID: Correctly identify severe symptoms and determine if individual is capable to administer self-aid. If vapor hazard still present ensure individuals mask is donned properly. Locate and administer the individual 3 Atropine and 3 2-PAM-CI injector and move individual to triage or decon/treatment station.

Cole dated May 10, 1943: "Red and I were sitting with two girls once, at the dance, when one made the remark that she 'sure was all knocked up.' Red looked at me, and I looked at him; we both looked at the girls, but finally acted like we never noticed it. Later on, one of them asked the other how much she had been screwed that evening. That was too much for Red - he haw-hawed out. Both girls looked at us in surprise. I knew then that they were referring to something else from what Red and I thought. I asked them if they know what that was in our American slang - they didn't - and I plainly told them. They were very much embarrassed, but said they were glad I told them - and that they would watch what they said around any more Marines."

8. ARABIAN GULF ENVIRONMENT CONCERNS NOTE: For the next couple of months we are going to be operating in a harsh environment. From a high seawater injection temp (currently 89 F), to high air temperatures, to hot decks heated by radiant sunlight, to sand storms, all of these conditions will affect your equipment as well as yourselves. Therefore, here are some lessons learned to keep in mind:

- Drink plenty of water: At least eight 8 ounce glasses of water a day.
- Maintain A/C boundaries: Close all hatches and scuttles behind you if you step out to the main deck or to a high ambient temperature space.
- Wear sunscreen if topside.
- Watch your work space temperatures. Know when to call for a heat stress survey.
- Know the signs of heat stress and watch your shipmates.

your air filters and heat exchangers cleaned.

9. CRUISE BOOK SALE: Cruise books will be available for sale in the Personnel Office today between 0900-1100. Cost of the cruise book is $22.00.
